Week ending 11th November 2016

Be respectful Be ready Be resilient Be responsible Be resourceful Be reflective Be remarkable

We welcomed Jack Trelawny to Bocking this week. Jack is the author of the series of books 'Kernowland'. Jack led an assembly with children from Year 2 upwards where he shared some of his stories and also his inspiration for his writing.

We hope you enjoyed meeting with your child/children and their teacher at the TLC's this week. The children should be proud of the way they were able to articulate their learning.

The children in Year 5 this week have started a drama project working with the Mercury Theatre. This fantastic opportunity has been organised as part of our work with a local cluster of schools. This will continue weekly until just before Christmas when the children will be sharing their work in a performance with other schools.

Friday 18th November is Children in Need day.

We invite children to wear something spotty to school. If they would like to make a donation for not wearing their uniform, this would be gratefully received for Children in Need.

A number of children have been bringing in their own footballs to school. Could we please ask that the children keep these at home. We have footballs available for children to play with at lunchtime.

We look forward to welcoming the Year 6 parents to assembly on Thursday 17th November at 10am.

Times Table Club was a huge success this week. Mrs Smith was delighted to see 40 children attend. Great enthusiasm everybody.

A few reminders:

- ◆ We would be grateful for your payments for the panto.
- ◆ Don't forget we are collecting jars and books in preparation for Christmas.
- ◆ If your child is ill, please ensure you phone to let the office know. An alternative is to send a message via Class Do Jo.
- ◆ The weather has turned much colder now, please ensure your child brings a coat to school for playtimes.
- ◆ Please ensure all clothing is clearly named.

Please note there will be no netball on Monday as the teachers will be involved in a meeting at another school.
