Week ending 16th November 2018

Be respectful Be ready Be resilient Be responsible Be resourceful Be reflective Be remarkable

It was great to see the children dressed in their pyjamas today to support Children In Need.

Thank you for attending the TLC's this week. We hope you found them useful and that you enjoyed hearing about the children's learning. We hope the written report was useful too; Miss Tatlow will be asking for feedback about these reports at our next Parent Forum.

Some members of staff attended the church on Saturday for the Remembrance vigil and to see the jars that the children had made.

This was an amazing sight. We hope you were able to go and see them.

E-safety news

One of the forums that we belong to for e-safety has advised us to remind you, following the release of Call of Duty Black Ops 4, that this has a certificate of 18. Therefore it is not appropriate for children.

Have a look at the latest safety advisor newsletter for more e-safety tips.

Attendance

Well done this week to EYFS for 100% attendance and to year 2 for 99% and to the whole school for 100% punctuality.

Centenary Dance

We mentioned last week that Years 5 and 6 took part in a WW1 Centenary dance. Please see the following links for a video clip and press release about the event, in which Bocking children feature heavily!

Governor News

Our Governing Board held their termly Governor day in school on Wednesday. They held the resources and Pupil Outcomes committee meetings. Two governors spent time in classrooms seeing the children learning and two met with some children for a pupil voice questionnaire.
